

Elizabeth A. Sawyer
CAC Studio School Instructor & Member of D'Art Center in Norfolk, VA

Hummingbird Plate, Porcelain, 19"d x 4.5"h, wired for hanging

Having worked in clay for over a decade Elizabeth's style has combined a modern aesthetic with the nuances of Asian forms and decorative motifs in her porcelain vessels. Elizabeth A. Sawyer received a Bachelor of Arts in studio arts from Mary Washington College in 1998 and studied Studio Production Pottery at Tidewater Community College from 1998-2001. An award-winning resident artist and instructor at d'Art Center, she has previously been a guest lecturer at Old Dominion University and Governor's School for the Arts. She has exhibited in both local and regional shows and exhibitions.

Elizabeth's award winning work has been shown at Coconut Grove Arts Festival, Miami, FL, Greater Reston Arts Center Spring Art Show, VA, the American Craft Council Show, Charlotte, NC, and the Handworkshop of Richmond Craft and Design Show.
